SEES NECESSITY OF NATIONAL GUARD

Inspector General of Con- Wins Honors at Annapolis. Reception At White House R. M. Anderson, Injured at Mrs. necticut Tells of Requirements.

An intimate view of the National at Large from Connecticut, by Col. Edward Schulze, inspector general. C.

Colonel Schulze predicts that it will be necessary for the Federal Government to provide some relief if the National Guard is to be preserved. "Every National Guard officer," says Colo-"no matter from what State, will tell you that since the passage and enforcement of the Dick bill and since actual work is expected of the militia, the membership has decreased and a majority of company commanders have hard work to keep their organizations up to a minimum. This may sound strange, but it is nothing less than a fact. Since the annual outings of the old guards have gone into history and the real working camps have been established, the men are

"When men are asked to come in

We are obliged to acquaint each man with the duties required of him before he enlists; also the laws and regulations which govern his acts. Just imagine the effect on a prospective when the captain informs him that he must attend at least one drill every week, for which he will get no other compensation than the benefit he may gain in military training; but if he misses a drill (sickness excepted) he must pay a fine of $1. The young men of today will hardly accept this as an inducement, and yet such are the inducement, and yet such are the

"The State of Connecticut has done a whole lot more for her soldiers than any other State, and is doing it today; and now that the Federal Government has taken hold and is expecting much more of the officers and men than they have ever before, which is no more than right and should have been done years ago, the General Government has the state of the sta ernment must also expect to stand a good share of the necessary ex-

Army Aerial Drill.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, May 31.—After spending several months at the Wright Brothers' aerodrome at Dayton, Lieut. Thomas D. Milling, Fifteenth cavalry, U. S. A., is on his way to Washington where he will drill other army officers in the art of navigation.

VITERBO, Italy, May 31.—The Camorrists are in a manifest state of despondency today following the failure to wholly connect Gaetano Amedeo, the crown witness, with being one of the murderers of Gennaro Cuoccolo. The point rested largely on identification of eyeglasses found near the scene of the crime. Experts declared them not to be identical with those of Amedeo.

Mary E. Thurston Wins Separation Suit In Nevada.

RENO, Nev., May 31.-Mrs. Mary E. Thurston, niece of Edward H. Harriman, has obtained a divorce from Charles Story Thurston. He is a young patent attorney, and she charged him with nonsupport.

Thurston is said to be a hopeless invalid, residing at Saranac Lake, N. Y. He filed a formal answer, but made no opposition.

Mrs. Thurston obtained permission to resume her maiden name of Mary bert M. Anderson is thirty years of and has been employed on a ranch Stone Canyon, Cal. He had been in hington for two weeks visiting his nts and had started back to Califorleaving here last Friday with the tition of traveling by the Burlington e from Chicago.

Anderson has telegraphed the ician in Holdrege asking for further its as to his son's injuries. It is stated in the divorce colony that Paul Livingston Mottelay, who occupies a responsible position with J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., is on his way out here. Friends of Mrs. Thurston say there will be a wedding when he arrives.

Mottelay, like Mrs. Thurston, is connected with some of the oldest families in New York. In September, 1887, he secretely married Miss Anna Van Santen, a daughter of Cornelius Van Santen, of Brooklyn, who, though she claimed to come of fashionable lineage, was earning her living as a dressmaker for six months, Mottelay, on the secret coming out, applied for an annulment of the marriage on the ground that he was drunk the night of the ceremony and knew nothing of it, and that she had been previously married and was not divorced.
